

EXPEDITED PROCEDURE*In the Claims:

25. Cancelled

26. Cancelled.

27. (Previously Presented) A body section in a vehicle comprising:
a metal profile, wherein the metal profile includes at least two side walls, a base plate, and at least two support walls, said at least two support walls, said at least two side walls and said base plate constituting a sectional area with at least three hollow sections, said base plate and said support walls constituting an internal section of said metal profile, with substantially triangular sectional area wherein a glass panel is attached to said metal profile supported by a flange of said metal profile.

28. (Previously Presented) The body section according to claim 27, wherein said metal profile includes a flange which is adapted to support a roof bow.

29. (Twice Amended) The body section according to claim 27, wherein said metal profile includes a flange [which is adaptable to support a door seal].

30. (Previously Presented) The body section according to claim 27, wherein said metal profile includes a flange which is adapted to support a pillar.